Chat captures a fraction of AI's value. Delegation captures the rest.

BEFORE · THE CHAT WINDOW

- Ask, copy, paste, repeat
- You do the work; AI answers questions
- Every task starts from zero, nothing compounds

AFTER · THE AGENTIC WAY

- You frame the problem; AI completes the multi-step work
- Agents work inside your mail, files and systems
- Skills and workflows compound week over week

THREE EVENINGS, WITH DATES

WAIMAKERS

Delegate, connect, orchestrate.

1

Foundations of agentic work + skills

Shift from assistant to colleague. You run your first autonomous multi-step task with Claude Code and capture your expertise in a reusable skill.

Wed 16 Sep

2

MCPs: connecting your world

You link Claude to your actual mail, files and systems through MCPs, and learn to judge which connections are worth adding next.

Wed 30 Sep

3

Agents & multi-agent workflows

You design a team of agents and orchestrate a real multi-agent workflow for a problem you own. It keeps working after the programme ends.

Wed 14 Oct

Biweekly on purpose: you apply each layer (~2 hours of homework) before the next session. Amsterdam, in person.

For professionals ready to multiply their output.

The daily user

- Uses AI every day and feels the ceiling
- Wants autonomy and compounding instead of copy-paste
- Ready to move beyond the chat window

The knowledge worker

- Your value is thinking, not typing
- Wants AI handling the multi-step execution
- Inside your own mail, files and systems

The Champions alum

- Finished Champions and wants the advanced track
- Claude Code, MCPs and agents, fast
- Alumni get first access to seats

Hands-on from minute one: bring your laptop and a real task you wish you could delegate.

Built to learn by practice.

You arrive with real work

Your own tasks and use cases, not a case study. Every exercise runs on the work you actually do.

You build in session

2.5 hours hands-on, laptops open, with the experts beside you. You leave every evening with something that works.

You apply it at home

Count on ~2 hours of homework per session. That is where the compounding happens: session 3 runs on what you built in session 1.

Plus direct access to the WAIMAKERS team between sessions.

Biweekly on purpose: you apply each layer in your real work before the next session.
